DETAILED ACTION

Response to Amendment

1. In response to the Amendment received on February 1, 2005, the examiner has carefully considered the amendments.

Response to Arguments

2. Applicant's arguments, see Response, filed February 1, 2005, with respect to claims 21-45 have been fully considered and are persuasive. The rejection of claims 21-25, 31-36 and 45 under 35 USC 102(e) as anticipated by or, in the alternative, under 35 USC 103(a) as obvious over Fujitia (WO 99/056216) and under 35 USC 102(e) as being anticipated by or, in the alternative, under 35 USC 103(a) as obvious over Fujitia et al (US 6,407,164 and US 2002/0086942) has been withdrawn. The translation of priority document JP 10/285797, filed 10/08/1998 is sufficient to overcome the above rejections. However, claims 21-45 are now subject to an obviousness-type double patenting rejection over the above art. See below.

Double Patenting

3. The nonstatutory double patenting rejection is based on a judicially created doctrine grounded in public policy (a policy reflected in the statute) so as to prevent the unjustified or improper timewise extension of the "right to exclude" granted by a patent and to prevent possible harassment by multiple assignees. See In re Goodman, 11 F.3d 1046, 29 USPQ2d 2010 (Fed. Cir. 1993); In re Longi, 759 F.2d 887, 225 USPQ 645 (Fed. Cir. 1985); In re Van Ornum, 686 F.2d 937, 214 USPQ 761 (CCPA 1982); In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970); and, In re Thorington, 418 F.2d 528, 163 USPQ 644 (CCPA 1969).

A timely filed terminal disclaimer in compliance with 37 CFR 1.321(c) may be used to overcome an actual or provisional rejection based on a nonstatutory double patenting ground provided the conflicting application or patent is shown to be commonly owned with this application. See 37 CFR 1.130(b).

Effective January 1, 1994, a registered attorney or agent of record may sign a terminal disclaimer. A terminal disclaimer signed by the assignee must fully comply with 37 CFR 3.73(b).

4. Claims 21-25, 31-37, and 45 is rejected under the judicially created doctrine of obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claims 1-8 and 13-15 of U.S. Patent No. 6,407,146.

Art Unit: 1711

Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other because they appear to comprise overlapping subject matter. The difference between the two appears to be the high molecular weight plasticizer having an average molecular weight of 500 or over. However 6,407,146 per column 17, lines 42-43 teaches adding plasticizers, such as chlorinated paraffin's (which is a mixture of hydrocarbons of high molecular weight) to adjust the viscosity and other physical properties. Therefore it would have been within the skill of an ordinary skilled artisan at the time of the invention to use a high molecular weight plasticizer with a vinyl polymer having at least one crosslinkable silyl group represented by the formula found in both disclosures. The motivation would have been a reasonable expectation of adjusting the physical properties and viscosity as taught in 6,407,146. Fujitani et al (6,407,146).

5. Claims 21-25, 31-37, and 45 are rejected under the judicially created doctrine of obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claims 1-2, 4-9, and 18-23 of U.S. Patent No. 6,552,118. Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other because they appear to comprise overlapping subject matter. Although claims 1-2, 4-9 and 18-23 are written as method claims, said claims are defined by the composition as found in the claims, which appear to overlap with the instant invention; wherein the difference between the two appears to be the high molecular weight plasticizer having an average molecular weight of 500 or over. However 6,552,118 per column 20, lines 43-44 teaches adding plasticizers, such as chlorinated paraffin's (which is a mixture of silyl hydrocarbons of high molecular weight) to adjust the viscosity and other physical properties. Therefore it would have been within the skill of an ordinary skilled artisan at the time of the invention to use a high molecular weight plasticizer with a vinyl polymer having at least one crosslinkable silyl group represented by the formula found in both disclosures. The motivation would have been a reasonable expectation of adjusting the physical properties and viscosity as taught in 6,552,118.

Allowable Subject Matter

6. Claim 26-30 and 38-44 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

7. The following is a statement of reasons for the indication of allowable subject matter: The prior art fails to teach a composition comprising a vinyl polymer having at least one crosslinkable group such as alkenyl, hydroxyl, epoxy or amino functional groups and a high molecular weight plasticizer having an average molecular weight of 500 or over that is a vinyl or (meth) acrylic polymer having a molecular weight distribution value of less than 1.8 obtained by either living polymerization or atom transfer polymerization techniques.
